. Art Unit: 1731

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The recitation "extracting the individual lenses from the slices" in each of independent claims 1, 18 and 19 is confusing. The wording implies that the slices are further divided into lenses; however, a manipulative step for performing this additional subdivision is not recited. If an additional dividing step is contemplated, then the claims should be amended accordingly. Correction and or clarification is requested.

Claims 1-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, because the specification, while being enabling for assembling a plurality of glass rods in side by side configuration, does not reasonably provide enablement for assembling a plurality of glass rods in end to end configuration. The specification does not enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the invention commensurate in scope with these claims. The figures depict a plurality of glass rods assembled in side by side configuration and cutting the assembly into slices. The specification does not set forth how this process could be performed when the glass rods are assembled in end to end fashion. The claims should be amended accordingly.
